

Susan Hayes

Susan is the CEO of The Windsor Elms Village, Falmouth, a 108 bed licensed Long Term Care home. Prior to this, she was the Regional Manager, Annapolis Valley & South Shore for Shannex Incorporated, responsible for the operation of three long term care facilities.

Prior to this, she was with the Annapolis Valley District Health Authority in the role of Director, Quality & System Performance. With experience in both healthcare and financial service fields, in both public and private settings in Canada and the U.S, Susan has a deep understanding of blending dynamic operations with sound leadership and fiscal accountabilities.

Currently she serves on the Board of Directors for Glooscap Ventures. Susan has served two terms as President of The Annapolis Valley Chamber of Commerce and was Vice Chair of the Valley Regional Enterprise Network. She has been a Rotarian for 11 years, is a Past President of The Rotary Club of Kentville and is currently Vice-President of The Rotary Club of Windsor.

Born and raised in the Annapolis Valley, a proud Acadia alumnus, Susan and her family live in Kentville.
